W. L. HOWARD, Administrator.
Honolulu, Feb. 16, 1901.

FEW months ago the picturesque old house, which was formerly the home of the late Charles Spencer, Minister of the Interior, at Waikahu, Kau, Hawaii, was about to be torn down, as it was so old as to be almost uninhabitable, and it was feared that its rotten old roof might fall in and crush the old native couple who have occupied it for years and who have persistently refused to move out.
The old cottage had the honor, many years ago, of being the temporary home of Mark Twain, the famous humorist, and an old resident, Mr. C. C. Robbins, remembering this fact, hastened with his camera to the place and secured the accompanying photos, intending to forward prints to Mr. Clemens himself, to whom the pictures of the old house would doubtless bring back many pleasant memories. It was when he visited the Islands, in 1868, that he was the guest under Mr. Spencer's roof, and the old natives who still reside near the place remember Mark and his quaint humor, as even to them it was the feature of the man, and his droll use of the few native words he had learned appeared strongly to the risibles of the Kanakas of Waikahu.

THE HOUSE ON HAWAII WHERE MARK TWAIN LIVED IN 1868.

Mark Twain made any amount of fun of the Hawaiian government on his return to the Mainland as these extracts from his lecture on the Islands and from his subsequent writings will show: "In our country children play 'keep house,' and in the same high-sounding but miniature way the grown folk here, with the poor little material of slender territory and meager population play 'empire.' There is his royal Majesty the King with a New York detective's income of thirty or thirty-five thousand dollars a year from the 'royal civil list' and the 'royal domain.' He lives in a two-story frame 'palace.'

"And there is the 'royal family'—the customary hive of royal brothers, sisters, cousins and other noble drones and vagrants, usual to monarchy—all with a spoon in the national pan dish and all bearing such titles as his or her Royal Highness the Prince or Princess So-and-So. Few of them can carry their royal splendors far enough to ride in carriages, however; they sport the economical Kanaka horse or 'hoof it' with the pebbles.

"Then there is his Excellency the 'Royal Chamberlain' (Kalakaua)—a sinewy, for his Majesty dresses himself with his own hands, except when he is ruralizing at Waikiki and then he requires no dressing.

"Next we have his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the Household Troops, whose forces consist of about the number of soldiers usually placed under a corporal in other lands.

"Next comes the royal Steward and the Grand Equerry in Waiting—high dignitaries with modest salaries and little to do.

"Then we have his Excellency the First Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber—an office as easy as it is magnificent.

"Next we come to his Excellency the Prime Minister, a renegade American from New Hampshire, all jaw, vanity, bombast and ignorance, a lawyer of shyster caliber, a fraud by nature, a humble worshipper of the scepter above him, a reptile never tired of sneering at the land of his birth or glorifying the ten-acre kingdom that has adopted him—salary $4,000 a year, vast consequence and no perquisites.

"Then we have his Excellency the Minister of Finance, who handles a million dollars of public money a year, sends in his annual budget with great ceremony, talks prodigiously of 'finance,' suggests imposing schemes for paying off the 'national debt' (of $150,000) and does it all for $4,000 a year and unimaginable glory.

"And next comes his Grace the Lord Bishop of Honolulu, the chief dignitary of the 'Established Church'—for when the American Presbyterian missionaries had completed the reduction of the nation to a compact condition of Christianity native royalty stepped in and erected the grand dignity of an 'Established (Episcopal) Church' over it, and imported a cheap, ready-made Bishop from England to take charge. The chagrin of the missionaries has never been comprehensively expressed to this day, profanity not being admissible."

JESSE JAMES' OATH.

Amateurs to Play the Thrilling Drama Tonight.

The Youths' Dramatic Club, which, some weeks since, gave an ambitious performance entitled "Jesse James' Oath," in their Punchbowl theater, have decided to show to larger audiences their capacity as interpreters of the border drama, and have engaged the Orpheum theater for tonight, when the adventures of the great American bandit will be exploited.

Jesse James is a play of the more lurid type. Hairbreadth escapes, rescues and pistol plays follow each other in profusion. Long haired cowboys and Mexicans fill the stage, with their picturesque costumes, and daring, dashing ways. The female characters are entrusted to sundry falsetto-voiced members of the organization.

Besides the grand attraction of the Bandit's Bloodstained and Belligerent Bravado, there will be extracts of wire and cackling and jig dancing, making the program a continuous one.

The evening will undoubtedly furnish plenty of excitement and full value for the reduced admission fees of 50 and 25 cents. The box office is open today and the opportunity to spend an evening of amusement will probably tempt many to patronize the play.

PACIFIC UNION OIL CO.

Located in the Famous Coalinga Oil Fields of California.

Proven oil lands, completely surrounded by as rich oil producing wells as there are in the State, yielding from 50 to 250 barrels per day.

Contract prices for oil at the Coalinga wells, 70 cents per barrel.

With twenty-five producing wells of 100 barrels each per day, you can make your own calculation as to profits.

The oil industry in California is in its infancy, yet many fortunes have been made by judicious and lucky investments in oil stock. Many more will be made in the near future.

The average advance on original sales of oil stock in twenty leading companies in California has been from $1 to $108 per share.

Oil lands have advanced from $1.25 to $1,000 and $2,000 per acre.

When the Pacific Union Oil Company has a number of producing wells on its property, its stock will have the same show for even a greater advance, as some oil stock has advanced from $1 to $1,500 per share.

The Pacific Union Oil Company has no salaried officers, and is controlled by well known gentlemen of integrity, who will see that the money derived from the sale of stock will be legitimately applied to the development of its property.

For further information, apply to J.
H. FISHER & CO., Stock and Bond Brokers, and Hawaiian agents for the sale of a limited amount of Pacific Union Oil Company stock, Stangen-wald building, Merchant street.

THE PRESIDENT'S CANTON HOME.

The illustration shows the unpretentious home of the president of the United States, at Canton, Ohio. It is here that Mr. McKinley will spend the greater part of his summer vacation. Owing to the condition of Mrs. McKinley's health the president changed the plans he had made, which included visits to several of the show places now in full swing.

ment of a concert will be hailed with enthusiasm the opportunity of entertaining and being entertained by a master musician seldom coming to mid-Pacific shores.

The seat sale is announced for Monday next at Wall, Nichols.

ALLAN DUNN.

MRS. BOWLES, MAJOR GENERAL.

Governor Candler, of Georgia, has made Mrs. Legare Hill Bowles a major general.
This is because the lady, being deeply interested in the Third Georgia regiment of the national guard, in camp at Washington, in that State, took so much pains to make his visit of inspection comfortable, and made such pretty speeches, that the governor really had to do something extraordinary.

DE RESZKE AS A "HOSS" MAN.

Jean de Reszke, the great tenor, has had considerable success in horse breeding, which for several years he has carried on as a "side line." At the late spring meeting at Warsaw he started fourteen horses in forty races, winning thirty of them. "Cash" Sloan, the illustrous "Teds" brother, rode all the horses and won nineteen consecutive races.

Spruance, Stanley & Co's celebrated brand of "Kentucky Favorite" and "Q.
P. C." whiskies stand the highest.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA INFAN- TUM.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwater, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this remedy frequently, and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by Benson,

WHERE THE FANS CAME FROM.

A social worker who has had occasion to inspect most of the so-called sweat shops in New York gave it as his belief that the person who invented the electrical fans got his idea from the funny little tailors and their sewing machines. It has been an old practice with these workmen in warm weather, said the agent, to use the power in their machines to fan themselves. This they accomplish by tying pieces of stiff cardboard to the spokes of the fly or balance wheel, and, as they work the pedal with their feet, the cardboard on the wheel cuts the air like a small pin-wheel and plays the air upon the face of the tailor.

Impure Blood

Make it Pure, Rich, and Healthy.
Impure blood takes the very life out of one. You just drag around, your work, feeling wretched and disconsolate all the time. You are weak, discouraged, and have lost faith in medicine. Try just one thing more. Mr. C. Mundon-Cresdee, of Campbelltown, South Australia, sends us this letter, with his photograph.

"I was suffering from a very bad wound that would not heal. I thought it must be account of my blood, so I tried

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

After taking only two bottles my wound thoroughly healed and I felt better than ever before in my life. Whenever I feel out of sorts, now, I take a few doses and am all right. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for impure blood and general debility.

If your liver is sluggish, you have a weak tongue, constipation, and your food disagrees with you. Ayer's Pills cure all liver troubles.
